

MUSTARD FRIEDMAN

Description

Mustard is a 17-month-old Mantle-Merle Great Dane with the maturity and demeanor of an old lap dog. Mustard has always lived in an apartment and, true to his breed, prefers living in smaller spaces (close to his parents). Mustard is friendly, gentle and is the most popular dog in the neighborhood. Mustard has been a Friedman since he was 12 weeks old, and he is a cherished member of the family.

Education

Front Range Canine Academy

September 2010 - December 2010

- Mustard graduated at the top of his class from Level 1 Primary Obedience Class at the Front Range K9 Academy, Denver's premier dog training and canine behavior facility. Mustard studied under the owner of the Academy, Jennifer Hime, who has been training dogs professionally since 1990.
- Mustard's owners worked with him for 15-20 hours per week for 9 weeks during his training, and he mastered the art of Potty Training and all voice commands - Heel, Sit, Stay, Leave It, Down, and Smile for the Camera.
- During the course of training, Mustard was repeatedly tested by his instructor to ensure he had been doing his homework and learning his course materials, and Mustard scored a 90% (A) on his final exam.
- Mustard is docile, loving and calm. He does extremely well with all types of dogs and humans of all ages (he loves little kids!). He is well mannered and does not bark in social situations.

Health & Grooming

Pets on Broadway

September 2010 - Present

- Mustard has been seeing Dr. Scolnick, a veterinarian specializing in large breeds, since he was 12 weeks old.
- He is up to date on all his vaccinations, receives regular health check-ups and is free from all diseases, ticks, and fleas.

Puppercrombie & Bitch

September 2010 - Present

- Mustard is very hygienic and makes regular trips to the spa. He started his grooming at 12 weeks, and is accustomed to regular baths, ear cleaning, combing and nail clippings.

Planned Pethood

March 2011 - March 2011

- Mustard is neutered, which benefits both his behavior and health.
